

“Intel engineering has been with us lockstep through the designs of our pods from generation one to generation eight. In the latest release of Intel® Xeon® Scalable processor they took years and years and years of understanding, of running virtual workloads, and figured out how to accelerate them and actually make them run better.”

John White, VP of Product Strategy for Expedient, Expedient

Expedient Delivers Enhanced Workload Performance for Its Clients

Expedient is a cloud service provider and managed service provider and we're focused on providing areas of expertise around risk mitigation, performance, availability of IT services. Expedient's mantra is continuous improvement and the company focuses on staying ahead of the increasing workload demands that come with new technologies like AI and machine learning. With Intel® Xeon® Scalable processors, Expedient can deliver agile services with enhanced performance and accelerate application workloads for their customers.

Products and Solutions
Intel® Xeon® Scalable processors

Industry
Cloud

Organization Size
251-500

Country
United States

Learn more
Video